Campaigning in a COVID world – advice from Dr. Gail Newel

It is hard to get COVID-19 from inanimate objects.

The biggest risk lies with close contact with other people. Close contact is defined as within six feet for more than 10 minutes, regardless of face coverings.

As case rates continue to increase, it is more important than ever to follow the social distancing requirements, which include:

- Wearing a face covering while engaging with others at work or in public;
- Keeping a six-foot distance from persons who are not members of your household;
- Frequently washing hands with soap and water for at least 20 seconds;
- Covering coughs or sneezes with tissue or fabric, or using your elbow; and
- Staying home if you are sick with a fever or cough.

Campaigns are encouraged to do voter outreach in an outdoor public setting where they can stand more than six feet away from voters.

How Do Californians Want to Cast their Ballots During the COVID-19 Crisis?

New Electorate Study by

Thad Kousser, UC San Diego

Mindy Romero, California Civic Engagement Project at University of Southern California

Mackenzie Lockhart, UC San Diego

Seth Hill, UC San Diego, and

Jennifer Merolla, UC Riverside

Conclusions

- Overall, a strong majority of California's eligible electorate would prefer to cast a ballot by mail in November's election
- But not all Californians favor this option –choices about how to cast ballots vary significantly across the diverse racial and ethnic groups in our electorate
- Some voters say that they would not participate in the election if it is conducted either exclusively through the mail or exclusively through in-person options

More Conclusions

- When thinking about in-person voting experiences, voters who read scientific projections about a scenario in which the COVID-19 crisis peaks in the fall were more uncomfortable at the prospect of waiting in line or working at a polling place
- There were also significant differences by race and ethnicity in comfort levels
- But voters of all types under all scenarios became much more comfortable with casting ballots in a polling place that adheres to social distancing protocols
- It is important to note that these are their survey responses... rather than measures of behavior
- Whether the preferences that they expressed about how to cast ballots shapes their participation will be revealed in November 2020

Personal Preferences on How to Cast a Ballot, by Race and Ethnicity

Significant differences in preferences among eligible voters in selecting voting by mail as their top option:

- 54.3% of non-Latino whites
- 54.2% of Asian American
- 48.0% of African Americans
- 47.9% of Latinos

These differences suggest that if any voting options are made completely unavailable to eligible voters, such changes could have a disparate impact across groups

Personal Preferences on How to Cast a Ballot, by Race and Ethnicity

When we asked if they would vote if a mail ballot was their only option:

5.1% of African Americans said that they would not vote

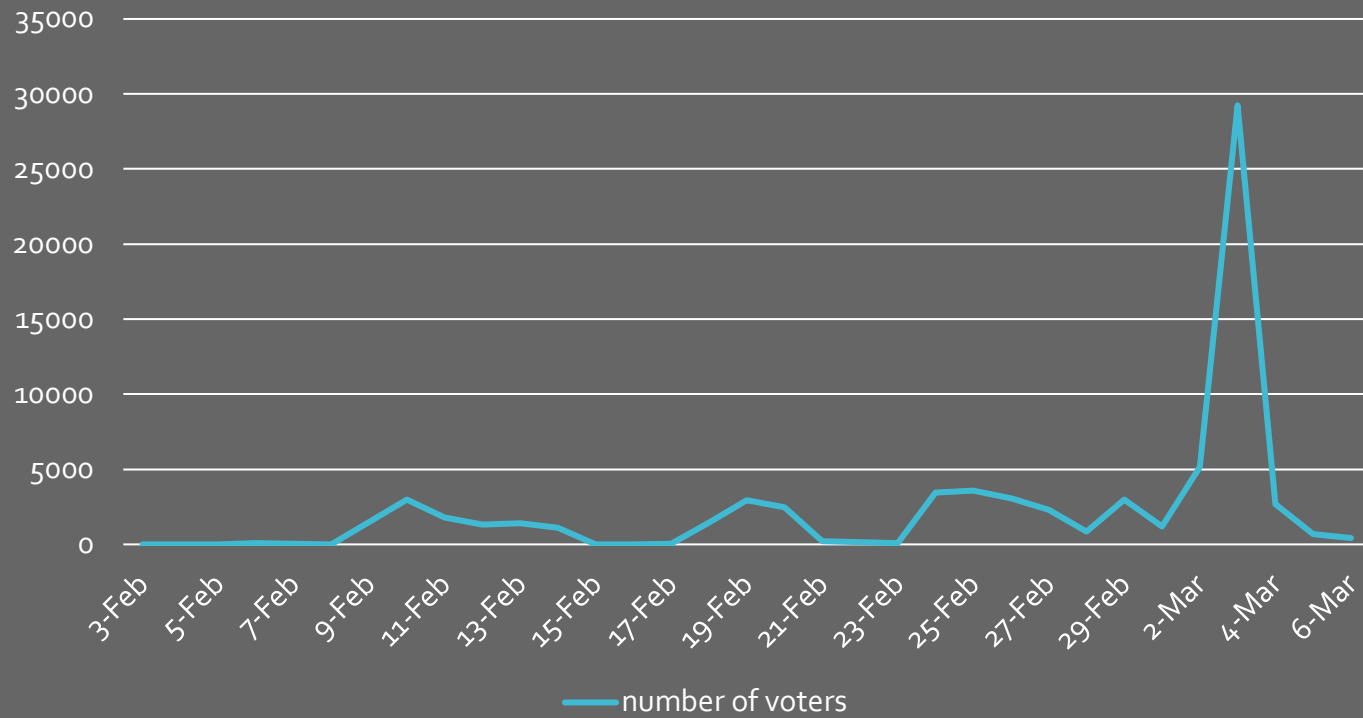

4.8% of Asian Americans

3.3% of non-Latino whites

2.3% of Latinos

Vote-by-mail safeguards

Postmark + 17 (new law just signed)

- Vote-by-mail ballots that are postmarked on or before Election Day or is time stamped or date stamped by a bona fide private mail delivery company on or before Election Day and received by the county elections official by the 17th day after the election shall be considered received on time.

The signature on the ballot envelope is compared to the signature on file.

Cure for unsigned ballot envelopes or non-comparing signatures

- Voters who failed to sign their vote-by-mail ballot envelope or has a signature that does not compare to what is on file will have until 2 days prior to the certification of the election to provide a signature on a Signature Statement to the County Elections Department. The Signature Statement may be returned to the County Elections Official by mail, FAX, email, hand-delivered, or dropped off at a voter service center or drop box.

No one can solicit the vote of a vote-by-mail voter, or do any electioneering, while in the residence or in the immediate presence of the voter, and during the time he or she knows the vote-by-mail voter is voting.

- Any person who knowingly violates this section is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Ballot processing and counting...

- Since all voters will be mailed a ballot, we will process ballots and prepare for ballots to be counted as soon as they are received pursuant to a new law enacted on 6/18/2020.
- Of course, we can only process votes if we have them. We encourage voters to vote early, and not wait until the last day.
- Step 1 – peel signature tab from envelope (we did 70,678 ballots in March 2020!)
- Step 2 – run ballots through sorter where the signature is captured.
- Step 3 – clerks at computers will pull up batches where they can view 5 signatures from ballot envelopes and the signature from the corresponding voter for each voter.
- Step 4 – ballots are sorted into good sigs match, no sig (letter sent) and sig compare questions, which get checked by another clerk.
 - Step 4a – letters are sent to the voters who did not sign their envelopes so they can fill out a form and cure their missing signature.
 - Step 4b – envelopes where sigs don't compare are put through two clerks for double checking. We will try to search for other signatures, printing, etc. We will try to call or email the voter if they have provided that information. Otherwise, they are sent a letter with a form they can fill out to cure their non-comparing signature.

...Ballot processing and counting

- Step 5- envelopes are opened and ballots are extracted.
 - Step 5a – clerks work in teams and make sure if they have 100 empty envelopes, they have 100 ballots.
 - Step 5b – if there are any ballots that cannot be read by the scanners due to tears or spills, the ballots are sent to a ballot duplicating board.
 - Two-person duplicating boards remake any problem ballots. Original ballots are maintained as the official voting record.
- Step 6 – ballots are bundled and labeled with a form to be sent to ballot counting.
- Step 7 – ballots are counted in batches and the form is completed with the operator number, initials, number counted and number rejected.
 - Step 7a – ballots that have been successfully counted are put into boxes, marked and stored.
 - Step 7b – ballots that were not counted, go to a ballot duplicating board.
- Step 8 – ballots that need adjudication, are reconciled at computer stations.
- Step 9 – ballots are tallied, and the vote is audited.
- Step 10 – the ballot count is posted on the website as an update.

Election Night

Ballot drop

8pm

We will continue to prepare ballots for the count until 11pm.

At 11pm, we will focus on scanning and final counting of the ballots we have in the system.

Semi-official election night results will be released sometime after midnight.

History has shown that we will count more ballots after Election Day than on Election Night.

So no victory parties yet! Results are NOT final until all votes are counted, audited, and verified.

Election officials are big fans of big margins!!

The Canvass

Like fine wine,
it takes time.

- The Canvass is the official tally of votes for any given election. The purpose of the canvass is to account for every ballot cast and ensure that every valid vote cast is counted accurately in the final election totals.
- The Canvass accounts for every ballot cast on Election Day, every qualified returned ballot from voters who voted using the ballot we mail them, every qualified Same Day Voter Registration ballot, every accepted provisional ballot, every challenged ballot, and every qualified military and overseas ballot.
- The Canvass enables an election official to resolve discrepancies, correct errors, and take any remedial actions necessary to ensure completeness and accuracy before certifying the election.
- Estimated number of outstanding ballots will be prepared by Friday, including the number of Same Day and Provisional Ballots. We will not have the number by district until the ballots are all keyed in as returned.
- There are several audits conducted during the Canvass to verify the results including a 1% manual tally of the results making sure every contest is audited.

Deadline to certify is Dec. 1 for presidential contest, Dec. 3 for all others.

By November 30, the county elections official shall declare the elected candidate or candidates to all school and special district holding elections in November. This statutory deadline conflicts with the first one.

Within five (5) days after the completion of the official canvass, any voter may request a recount by filing a written request with the Elections official and specifying that candidates and/or measures are to be recounted.
