

Our country is facing unprecedented challenges, from exploding costs to constant attacks on the rule of law to reckless foreign policies. This election presents an opportunity for Americans to address these threats and point our country in a better direction.

In Congress, I've been at the forefront of defending our democracy, as a Trump impeachment manager and on the committee investigating the January 6th attack on the Capitol. As Chair of the California Democratic Congressional Delegation, I helped lead the Proposition 50 redistricting measure to counter Trump's attempts to rig the midterms. As a former immigration law teacher, my colleagues look to me for help in crafting immigration policies that benefit families, support our economy, and secure the border instead of sending masked, armed agents to brutalize citizens and legal residents in our communities.

I'll stand up for you - for your right to earn a fair wage with hard work, to live safely in your community, and to access healthcare in the face of draconian cuts by Trump and his Congressional enablers.

I've helped bring hundreds of millions of federal dollars for flood control, transportation, education, water, healthcare, and other infrastructure projects here. I'll continue to deliver if you return me to Congress.

I have the energy and experience to fight for our country and for you. Our nation has a long record of overcoming every challenge, and I refuse to see our wonderful America weakened and our people let down while I have the strength to fight.
